

SACRIFICES ALL TO SAVE HUSBAND

Mrs. Olson Gives Up Her Good Name in Man's Defense.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
St. Paul, Minn., April 4.—Mrs. Lillian G. Olson, wife of Professor Oscar Olson, of the University of Minnesota Agricultural College, late today, in the District Court, bravely started treading the gamut of shame and mortification which she will endure in an effort to save her husband from prison for slaying Clyde Darling, driver of a laundry wagon and an admirer of the woman. She put forth a heroic effort to answer the interrogations of her husband's attorney, but her voice was low and quivering. Her mouth twitched at each answer, and tears coursed her face.

Although on the stand only a comparatively short time, her opening testimony presupposed a resolve to sacrifice her good name for the man's sake. Judge Orr informed her that she need not answer any questions which would tend to involve her in the commission of the crime. When asked if she would testify, knowing this, she said firmly:

"I will tell all."

She said she had informed her husband of her relations with Darling, whom she first met in December, 1911. As she told her story the woman verged almost on nervous collapse. Mr. Olson stared straight ahead and with an indifference that seemed to say that the story was old to him. She and her husband had been married six years, she said.

"We have a little girl, aged six," Here she cried bitterly, and could scarcely finish her testimony.

The State rested its cross-examination of Prof. Olson this afternoon.

Olson further detailed the confession which he said his wife made to him. The reason he remained loyal to her in spite of her self-admitted unfaithfulness came out for the first time in this statement:

"She told me this: 'Darling has a superhuman influence over me. He looks into my eyes and hypnotizes me. I cannot resist him.'"

The cross-examination of Prof. Olson by the State Attorney O'Brien, in spite of the questions which Mr. O'Brien fired at the defendant, the story of threats and a broken home, which Prof. Olson told in direct examination yesterday, was not materially shaken. The county attorney raised some doubt as to the precautions Prof. Olson said he took after he learned Darling had threatened his life. It is conceded, however, that the attorneys for Olson have established a strong basis for self-defense and have succeeded in getting before the jury facts on which the unwritten law is founded.

ICE CREAM ONLY FOR SICK PEOPLE

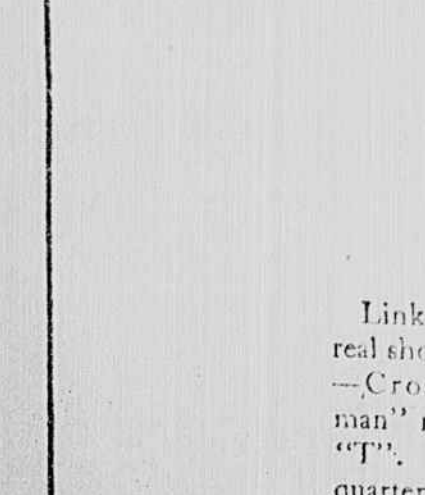

Deliveries to Private Homes on Sunday Held to Be in Violation of Law.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Norfolk, Va., April 4.—That ice-cream may be delivered on Sunday to sick people and to the hospitals, but not to private homes, and that the sale of cigars, tobacco and cigarettes, even in hotel cigar stands, is in violation of the State law, was the decree of Police Justice Barron today, sitting in judgment on the Sunday violation cases.

In accordance with this decision the following violators were fined $5 and costs each: P. Morgan Russell, of the Russell Ice-Cream Company; J. M. Pentecost, of the Montauk Ice-Cream Company; H. V. Rogers, of the Maryland Ice-Cream Company; and Sidney Heffner, proprietor of the Hotel Fairfax cigar stand. All appealed their cases to the Corporation Court.

In rendering his decision Police Justice Barron made the following statement: "Under my construction of the law, ice-cream may be delivered to sick persons and to the hospitals, because in many cases it is a work of necessity, but it cannot be delivered to private homes, because in my mind there is no distinction between the delivery of ice-cream on Sunday to the homes and the sale of the same product in a drug store or soda fountain."

The cases of all the Sunday violators of the Sunday law, which have been appealed from Justice Barron's decision, will be tried during the first of next week in the Corporation Court, so as to decide as quickly as possible what the merchants involved may be allowed to do under the law.

Link real shoe style with real shoe comfort and you have —Crossetts. This "young man" model will suit you to a "T". Embossed vamp and quarters. Style 140

Crossett Shoe
"MAKES LIFE'S WALK EASY"

MEMO

Neckwear
l'art nouveau
Shirts
a la parisien
Handkerchiefs
toile d'Irlande
Gloves, anglais
Underwear
qualité extra
Suits a la mode
Overcoats, pour le
Printemps.
"Le dernier cri" Socks

We mean you. Here's a feast for every man who has a taste for dress, and everything cooked up by experts. New York has nothing on us—Fifth Avenue and Wall Street styles are right here.

O. H. BERRY & CO.

Odds and Ends From the Wire

OLSON OWENS $3000 OWN

Nips Owner's Wallet From Hip Pocket and Gets Very Busy.
Milton, Pa., April 4.—C. A. Grove, treasurer of a local store company, placed $300 in bills in a wallet prior to going to a bank to deposit the money. This he put in his pocket. He had occasion to go to the bank, and when he passed a stall where a calf was tied the animal nipped the wallet from his pocket and grooved did not notice it.

Back in the store, he looked at it, and after a search he found that the calf was chewing the wallet, money and all. Taking it out, he found a ball of chewed-up money and leather. It will be sent to Washington for possible redemption.

MAN WOUND ON HUGE SPOOL.
Caught by Derrick Hook in Rope Walk and Sewing on Drum.

Beverly, N. J., April 4.—Lifted from his feet by a swinging derrick hook, which caught in his clothes, Thomas Stevenson was swung across a huge reel, on which he was wound like a human thread, at the Wall Rope Walk. He clutched the reel to save himself, and several strands of the winding rope bound him fast to the revolving spool.

Around and around he was carried, his body each time passing under the iron bar that smoothes the hawser into place, before he cries brought him to the ground. He was slowly strangled to death when John McCloskey threw the reel out of gear. The rope had to be unwound to release Stevenson. He was badly hurt, but his doctor says he will recover.

SHE'D ADOPT OHIO BABIES.
Spins Wants Found Orphans to Gladden Home She Made.

Chicago, April 4.—A woman, spinning, willing to a newspaper here, says she is anxious to adopt two children made orphans by the flood.

"I have been wondering," she says, "if there are any little children left motherless. If so, my contribution toward the relief fund will be the support, education and care of two of them."

"I have worked all my life in offices, with the sole hope of laying aside enough to make myself an attractive widow. Now I have the home, but nobody to live there—children."

FILIPINO CASEY AT BAT.
Home Run to Tammany When Murphy Mistakes Name.

Washington, April 4.—From the far-off Philippines comes word of a mistake which has made Tammany Hall famous there. Manuel Quezon, the Philippine delegate to the United States, was asked on his last return to the islands how he had been received in this country. Mr. Quezon, who pronounced his name "Quezon," said he had been welcomed with the utmost hospitality.

"I went to New York," said Mr. Quezon, "and was there introduced to Charles Murphy, the grand sachem of Tammany Hall. Mr. Murphy made a slight mistake in my name."

Home Run to Tammany When Murphy Mistakes Name.

Washington, April 4.—From the far-off Philippines comes word of a mistake which has made Tammany Hall famous there. Manuel Quezon, the Philippine delegate to the United States, was asked on his last return to the islands how he had been received in this country. Mr. Quezon, who pronounced his name "Quezon," said he had been welcomed with the utmost hospitality.

"I went to New York," said Mr. Quezon, "and was there introduced to Charles Murphy, the grand sachem of Tammany Hall. Mr. Murphy made a slight mistake in my name."

Home Run to Tammany When Murphy Mistakes Name.

Washington, April 4.—From the far-off Philippines comes word of a mistake which has made Tammany Hall famous there. Manuel Quezon, the Philippine delegate to the United States, was asked on his last return to the islands how he had been received in this country. Mr. Quezon, who pronounced his name "Quezon," said he had been welcomed with the utmost hospitality.

"I went to New York," said Mr. Quezon, "and was there introduced to Charles Murphy, the grand sachem of Tammany Hall. Mr. Murphy made a slight mistake in my name."

Home Run to Tammany When Murphy Mistakes Name.

Washington, April 4.—From the far-off Philippines comes word of a mistake which has made Tammany Hall famous there. Manuel Quezon, the Philippine delegate to the United States, was asked on his last return to the islands how he had been received in this country. Mr. Quezon, who pronounced his name "Quezon," said he had been welcomed with the utmost hospitality.

"I went to New York," said Mr. Quezon, "and was there introduced to Charles Murphy, the grand sachem of Tammany Hall. Mr. Murphy made a slight mistake in my name."

Home Run to Tammany When Murphy Mistakes Name.

BOY IS ACCUSED OF RIFLING MAIL

Waives Preliminary Examination and Is Released Under Bail of $1,000.

Staunton, Va., April 4.—Investigation that had been in progress for many weeks reached a climax yesterday in the arrest of John Frank Wilson, son of Postmaster Charles L. Wilson, of Churchville, Augusta County. He is charged with having rifled United States mails. When arraigned before Commissioner Hulst Glenn, the young man waived a preliminary hearing, and was released on bail in the sum of $1,000 to appear before the Federal grand jury at the next term. His father is his surety. Involving as it does a member of a well-known family, the arrest has created a sensation.

Postal inspectors had been at work on this case possibly for as long as two months. Numerous complaints had been made by patrons residing in Highland County, at Clare and at other points west of Staunton that outgoing mail had never reached the persons to whom it was addressed. As time went by, and as complaints increased, it became evident that the loss of mail was not due to any of the accidents which occur now and then in the service. So the case was reported to Washington.

The case was worked and the arrest made by Inspectors Irvine and Robinson, both of whom have given much time and effort to the investigation.

Wilson is said to be about twenty years old.

TWO-YEAR-OLD BOY SWALLOWS POISON

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Meherin, Va., April 4.—Norrest, the two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Holt, secured a small bottle of carbolic acid this morning and drank some of the contents, and lived only about one hour. Heroic efforts were made by Dr. J. M. West to save the life of the little fellow, but carbolic acid was being administered. Miss Taylor, a trained nurse, was present and assisted Dr. West.

Mrs. Holt, the young mother of the child, was going through a trunk in which the bottle of acid was kept, and set it on the floor by her side when the child picked up the bottle, and seeing him drink a portion of the acid. Aid was quickly summoned, but the deadly poison had already got in its fatal work.

HUSBAND KNEW BEST

Mrs. Bishop Reluctantly Consented To Advice of Husband, But Is Right Glad She Did, Now

Waverly, Va.—In a letter from this place, Mrs. Mattie L. Bishop says: "I suffered miserably from womanly trouble and everything I ate would put me in such misery I would have to go to bed until it wore off. I could not even wash my dishes, after a meal."

At last, my husband begged me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I had tried so many different kinds of medicine, I didn't want to take it, but agreed to try it for his sake.

Before I had finished one bottle, I could eat all I wanted and could do all of my work all right.

I gained in weight, and looked so much better, that my own sister said she wouldn't have known me, had she seen me away from home.

I shall always recommend Cardui, for I know it will do all you claim."

If you suffer from any of the numerous symptoms of womanly trouble, don't wait until the trouble becomes chronic. You owe it to yourself, your friends and your family, to try to regain your normal health.

Take Cardui, the woman's tonic, as so many thousands of other women have done, with good results.

Begin taking Cardui today.

N. B.—Write to: Chattanooga Medicine Co., Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga, Tenn., for special instructions on your case and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper.—Advertisement.

WOOD'S SEEDS
For The Farm and Garden.

Our New Descriptive Catalog is fully up-to-date, giving descriptions and full information about the best and most profitable seeds to grow. It tells all about Grasses and Clovers, Seed Potatoes, Seed Oats, Cow Peas, Soja Beans, The Best Seed Corns and all other Farm and Garden Seeds.

Wood's Seed Catalog has long been recognized as a standard authority on seeds. Mailed on request, write for it.

T. W. WOOD & SONS, SEEDSMEN, RICHMOND, VA.

MARRIED AT OYSTER BAY

DR. AND MRS. RICHARD A. DERBY.

BRIDE PROMISES TO OBEY HUSBAND

(Continued From First Page.)

velt, Jr., who, at the critical moment when the officiating clergyman asked if there was any reason why the marriage should not be performed, seized upon the opportunity to hint a remark which George Roosevelt later declared could be interpreted, "Not on your life."

Fifth Avenue auto busses had been provided to transport the guests, but they were not equal to the task of climbing the hill, and a large proportion of the guests were obliged to take the trolley to the summit of Sagamore Hill on foot.

The breakfast was served on the veranda, as well as within the house. The tables were decorated with jonquils and carnations. There were many presents, but no list was made public. Mrs. Nicholas Longworth was among the guests, but her husband was not at the last minute to telegraph his regrets. The social situation at Cincinnati demanding his presence there.

Dr. and Mrs. Derby left Sagamore Hill immediately after the breakfast for New York by motor. They will sail for Europe to-morrow morning on an extended honeymoon.

Among the guests were Mrs. Henry A. Alexander, Mrs. and Mrs. Douglas Bonar, Dr. and Mrs. Lyman Abbott, Dr. and Mrs. Theobald Roosevelt, Jr., Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Roosevelt, Mrs. Bulker, Mr. and Mrs. J. Murray, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Robinson, Monroe W. Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Cortelyou, Miss Grace Cortelyou, Mrs. and Mrs. Charles R. Alexander, the Misses Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Straight, Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Snowden Fahrenstock, Joseph H. Choate, Jr., Miss Margaret Roosevelt, George Roosevelt, Miss Marion Hollins, Miss Claire Bird, Mr. J. West Roosevelt, Mr. and Mrs. Hartwell, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Weeks, Mrs. Paul Morton, Mr. and Mrs. Timothy W. Woodruff, Mrs. Henry Atch, Jr., Robert Lincoln, Mrs. H. C. Clark, Jr., and Mrs. J. Hopkins Smith, Jr.

YOUNG WOMEN FLEE
Poughkeepsie, N. Y., April 4.—Several hundred young women students of Vassar College fled from the main dining hall in terror to-day when two knives fought a duel with carving knives in the kitchen. The duel was the result of an argument as to which should pick a chicken. A pair of main-swinging doors separated the young women from the kitchen where the chefs were lunging at each other and wrecking tables and kitchen utensils as they fought their way about the room.

Frederick MacVeigh, twenty-two, and Augustus Brenner, twenty-six, were the principals. When the police arrived it was necessary to send MacVeigh to the hospital, and his opponent was held in $1,000 for assault.

MacVeigh refused to talk, and no information can be obtained as to the cause of the homicide. Ford was promptly arrested and lodged in jail. Garland leaves a wife and several small children.

POLICE OFFICER SHOT AND KILLED

Lexington, Va., April 4.—J. L. Garland, a member of the police force here, was shot and killed to-day just after noon by Lee Ford. Ford, concealed behind a high fence on Second Avenue, awaited for Garland, whom he knew would pass that way. As he approached Ford fired with a repeating shotgun loaded with buckshot. He fired three shots, and Garland fell at the last shot, literally riddled in face and breast.

Garland was taken to the hospital, and information can be obtained as to the cause of the homicide. Ford was promptly arrested and lodged in jail. Garland leaves a wife and several small children.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Sarah C. Waters.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Charlottesville, Va., April 4.—A cablegram has been received here announcing the death in Florence, Italy, of Mrs. Sarah C. Waters, mother of W. D. Waters, of "Tallwood," this county. Mrs. Waters was the widow in the home, the question of "What shall we do this evening?" never bobs up.

When There's a Victor

Why not have a Victor in your house?

Come in and see us about it to-day.

Victors, $10 to $100; Victor-Victrolas, $15 to $250. Terms to suit.

The Corley Company
Succcessors Cable Piano Co.

213 E. Broad
RICHMOND, VA.

bert T. Hedges, who, for many years prior to the Civil War was professor of mathematics in the University of Virginia. Five sons and one daughter survive.—Dr. William Dinwiddie, of the University of Maryland, died at his home in Baltimore, Md., of pneumonia. Dr. Dinwiddie was a prominent physician and a member of the Maryland Medical Association.

Dr. Dinwiddie was a prominent physician and a member of the Maryland Medical Association. He was born in Maryland and spent his childhood there. He graduated from the University of Maryland and practiced medicine in Baltimore for many years.

Dr. Dinwiddie was a prominent physician and a member of the Maryland Medical Association. He was born in Maryland and spent his childhood there. He graduated from the University of Maryland and practiced medicine in Baltimore for many years.

Dr. Dinwiddie was a prominent physician and a member of the Maryland Medical Association. He was born in Maryland and spent his childhood there. He graduated from the University of Maryland and practiced medicine in Baltimore for many years.

Dr. Dinwiddie was a prominent physician and a member of the Maryland Medical Association. He was born in Maryland and spent his childhood there. He graduated from the University of Maryland and practiced medicine in Baltimore for many years.

Dr. Dinwiddie was a prominent physician and a member of the Maryland Medical Association. He was born in Maryland and spent his childhood there. He graduated from the University of Maryland and practiced medicine in Baltimore for many years.

Dr. Dinwiddie was a prominent physician and a member of the Maryland Medical Association. He was born in Maryland and spent his childhood there. He graduated from the University of Maryland and practiced medicine in Baltimore for many years.

Dr. Dinwiddie was a prominent physician and a member of the Maryland Medical Association. He was born in Maryland and spent his childhood there. He graduated from the University of Maryland and practiced medicine in Baltimore for many years.

Dr. Dinwiddie was a prominent physician and a member of the Maryland Medical Association. He was born in Maryland and spent his childhood there. He graduated from the University of Maryland and practiced medicine in Baltimore for many years.

Dr. Dinwiddie was a prominent physician and a member of the Maryland Medical Association. He was born in Maryland and spent his childhood there. He graduated from the University of Maryland and practiced medicine in Baltimore for many years.

Dr. Dinwiddie was a prominent physician and a member of the Maryland Medical Association. He was born in Maryland and spent his childhood there. He graduated from the University of Maryland and practiced medicine in Baltimore for many years.

Dr. Dinwiddie was a prominent physician and a member of the Maryland Medical Association. He was born in Maryland and spent his childhood there. He graduated from the University of Maryland and practiced medicine in Baltimore for many years.

Dr. Dinwiddie was a prominent physician and a member of the Maryland Medical Association. He was born in Maryland and spent his childhood there. He graduated from the University of Maryland and practiced medicine in Baltimore for many years.

Dr. Dinwiddie was a prominent physician and a member of the Maryland Medical Association. He was born in Maryland and spent his childhood there. He graduated from the University of Maryland and practiced medicine in Baltimore for many years.

Dr. Dinwiddie was a prominent physician and a member of the Maryland Medical Association. He was born in Maryland and spent his childhood there. He graduated from the University of Maryland and practiced medicine in Baltimore for many years.

Dr. Dinwiddie was a prominent physician and a member of the Maryland Medical Association. He was born in Maryland and spent his childhood there. He graduated from the University of Maryland and practiced medicine in Baltimore for many years.

Dr. Dinwiddie was a prominent physician and a member of the Maryland Medical Association. He was born in Maryland and spent his childhood there. He graduated from the University of Maryland and practiced medicine in Baltimore for many years.

Dr. Dinwiddie was a prominent physician and a member of the Maryland Medical Association. He was born in Maryland and spent his childhood there. He graduated from the University of Maryland and practiced medicine in Baltimore for many years.

Dr. Dinwiddie was a prominent physician and a member of the Maryland Medical Association. He was born in Maryland and spent his childhood there. He graduated from the University of Maryland and practiced medicine in Baltimore for many years.

Dr. Dinwiddie was a prominent physician and a member of the Maryland Medical Association. He was born in Maryland and spent his childhood there. He graduated from the University of Maryland and practiced medicine in Baltimore for many years.

Dr. Dinwiddie was a prominent physician and a member of the Maryland Medical Association. He was born in Maryland and spent his childhood there. He graduated from the University of Maryland and practiced medicine in Baltimore for many years.

Dr. Dinwiddie was a prominent physician and a member of the Maryland Medical Association. He was born in Maryland and spent his childhood there. He graduated from the University of Maryland and practiced medicine in Baltimore for many years.

Dr. Dinwiddie was a prominent physician and a member of the Maryland Medical Association. He was born in Maryland and spent his childhood there. He graduated from the University of Maryland and practiced medicine in Baltimore for many years.

Dr. Dinwiddie was a prominent physician and a member of the Maryland Medical Association. He was born in Maryland and spent his childhood there. He graduated from the University of Maryland and practiced medicine in Baltimore for many years.

Dr. Dinwiddie was a prominent physician and a member of the Maryland Medical Association. He was born in Maryland and spent his childhood there. He graduated from the University of Maryland and practiced medicine in Baltimore for many years.

Dr. Dinwiddie was a prominent physician and a member of the Maryland Medical Association. He was born in Maryland and spent his childhood there. He graduated from the University of Maryland and practiced medicine in Baltimore for many years.